Before adjourning for the day Mrs. Bourne, president of the State Union, and the presiding officer of the School of Methods, called attention to the fact that the name of ex-President Grover Cleveland appeared on the application for a license for the Princeton Inn, at Princeton, and that Governor John W. mouth Court for a license for the New-Jersey State Rifio Association's clubhouse, on the State encampment grounds at Seagirt, the Governor being president of the association.

Mrs. Bourne, in a vigorous speech, denounced ex-President Cleveland and Governor Griggs for their attitude on the liquor question, and, after acveral stirring speeches on the subject, a resolution was unanimously adopted denouncing the conduct of high officials who permit their names to be used to secure liquor licenses. The resolution also declared that the liquor license for the clubhouse at the State Camp would never have been obtained except through the intervention and the signature of Governor Griggs.

The school also adopted a resolution denouncing the practice of the State in furnishing liquor to the limates of the State Home for Veterans at Kearny, and recommending that the "canteen" system be abolished.

MARRIED AT DEATH'S DOOR.

AFTERWARD A SUCCESSFUL OPERATION WAS PERFORMED ON THE HUSBAND AND HIS

RECOVERY IS EXPECTED. Elizabeth, July 9 (Special).—What it was feared at first might prove a deathbed marriage was performed yesterday at the Alexian Brothers Hos-pital here by the Rev. Charles G. Fischer, of the German Lutheran Church, who united in wed-lock two young members of his church, Barbara Riedinger and Louis Rosencranse.

The bridegroom is employed at the Graselli Chemical Works, Tremly Point, and had been keeping company for some time with Miss Ried-inger. He became a patient in the hospital several weeks ago, much to the sorrow of his fiancee, who visited him there daily. She was informed a few days ago by the hospital authorities that her lover would have to undergo a critical surgical operation in order to save his life and that there was no telling if he would survive the ordea. The courageous and devoted young woman on learning this expressed the wish to be made his wife before the operation was undertaken. When the matter was broacked to the patient he gladly-the matter was broached to the patient he gladly gave his consent and the Rev. Mr. Fischer was sent for.

The patient, looking very pale, was propped up in bed with pillows and in the presence of John Riedinger and Adolph Hoeler, the brother and brother-in-law of the bride, the marriage service was enacted, all those in the room seeming to deeply feel the solemnity of the affair. The clergyman declared that in his fourteen years as a minister he had never taken part in such a painfully impressive service. The bride affectionately kissed her husband and encouraged him to be cheerful and brave.

The operation was performed to-day and the hospital surgeons said it was a complete success and that in a short time the young husband would be able to leave the institution and go on his weedding tour.

The flagman, Henry Grady, was sitting in front of the door, and when he saw the horses coming he made an effort to get inside the house, but before he could carry out his intentions she horses knocked him down. Grady owes his life to the fact that the horses were stunned from crashing into the house, and were captured before they recovered sufficiently to run away again. Mr. Grady was picked up suffering from the shock, and it was thought his head had been injured by the hoof of one of the horses, as blood was flowing from his mouth. An examination aboved that no bones were broken. The driver escaped injury beyond a bruise es the left leg.

YONKERS.

Mrs. Ballington Booth spoke before a number of The First Reformed Church of Yonkers, whose guests of Mrs. W. W. Law, at Briar Cliff, on Tuesnearly thirty-two years, has an interesting history. It grew out of a mission movement started in 1841, at which time the combined population of Yonkers, Riverdale and Kingsbridge was only 2,968. For nearly four years (from October 25, 1841, to August 24, 1845) all the public services were held in a building which stood a few doors south of the present Main-st., on South Broadway. This building was noted for one of its apartments called "The Long Room." At that time the only churches in the town were St. John's and the Methodist. The Rev. Victor Moreau Hulbert, who was on January 4, 1843, installed as paster of the Reformed Church at Greenville, organized about 1842, occupied the pulpit of the mission from August, 1842, till November

April 23, 1843. Its first house of worship was dedicated on August 27, 1845, on the site of the present handsome structure. Mr. Hulbert was called to its pulpit soon after its dedication. This call he accepted on October 21, 1845, and a few weeks later was installed. He was pastor of the church twicefrom November 12, 1845, to April 18, 1848, and again from November 2, 1852, to September 21, 1855. During his absence from the church of a little over four years there were two brief pastorates—that of the Rev. Isaac S. Demund, who occupied the pulpit from October 8, 1848, to April 18, 1859, and that of his successor, the Rev. Dwight M. Seward, who was pastor from February 12, 1851, to April 26, 1852. Dr. Hulbert's second pastorate, beginning on November 9, 1852, continued for nearly thirteen years, and was terminated on September 21, 1855. A call was extended to Dr. Cole to succeed Mr. Hulbert on December 8, 1855. On December 10 he preached his first rermon to his people, but his formal installation did not take place till January 19 of the next year. The building up of the church previous to Dr. Cole's period the latter credits to Dr. Hulbert. When he closed his pastorate in 1855 there were on the roll of membership 330 names, all but thirty-seven of which had been gathered by him. After his return in 1852 the church filled so rapidly that it became necessary to enlarge the building, and the structure was rededicated in its enlarged form in June, 1851. Board of Education met in special session

The care of Collins and others against the institution of Mercy and others will be called for trial in the Supreme Court, at White Plains, today. The building is in Wilson Park, adjoining the Pocantice Hills, home of Join D. Rockefeller. It was built in 1886, and the firm of Longstaff & Hurd, of Bridgeport, Conn., were the builders of the woodwork. The firm hired a man named Sharpe to act as superintendent, and after the work was completed they, it is alleged, refused to pay him. Sharpe assigned his claim to Collins, who filed a mechanic's lien against the premises covering the amount due him. This action is now brought to forcelose the lien. Longstaff & Hurd have since failed and their business is in the hands of a receiver, and their claim against the institution has been assigned to the City National Bank, of Bridgeport, which is made the defendant. Several prominent business men of Tarrytown, who have also filed liens against the building, are made defendants in the case.
